

Drum Kingdom - South African Drum Workshop

Drumming plays an important role in every child's development. Beginning at birth, drum music stimulates the brain and provides a platform for listening, language, and creativity, and research shows that children who play an instrument excel academically, including scoring higher on standardized tests.

Recent studies have shown that playing a musical instrument can measurably enhance a child's life in the following ways:

Intelligence development	Engages imagination and creativity
Develops abstract reasoning skills	Sharpens problem-solving skills
Emotional development	Boosts self-confidence
Builds self discipline	Makes learning fun
Physical development	Sharpens hand eye coordination
Homes sense of rhythm	Social Interaction
Encourages self-expression	Builds relations with peers
Promotes concentration and memory retention	Brings families together
